

The retail industry's most authoritative source of statistical information on merchandising and operating performance. Now in its seventy-first year of publication, MOR continues its tradition as the most comprehensive and reliable statistical report on merchandising and operating trends in the retail industry. Over the decades it has become an indispensable decision-making tool for retail professionals by providing a wealth of detailed information for tracking current and future market trends, making strategic merchandising and pricing decisions, establishing goals for long-term operational improvements, and more. This 1996 Edition: Surveys trends in sales, merchandising, and inventory, as well as inventory and space productivity among both department stores and specialty stores. Supplies specific information on trends in a wide range of merchandise categories—everything from women's apparel to home electronics, from cosmetics and drugs to home furnishings. Provides data on monthly sales distribution, monthly markdowns, and stock sales ratios.
